How to use this Easy Read resource

Tasmanian Government

The Tasmanian Government made this resource. When you see ‘we’, it means the Tasmanian Government.

We made this resource in a way that is easy to read.

We use pictures to explain some things.

Bold

Not bold

We have written some words in bold.

This means the letters are thicker and darker.

We explain what these words mean.

You can get someone to help you read this resource.

A friend, family member or support person may be able to help you.

Telling you about the discussion paper

This resource is a summary of a new discussion paper.

A summary is shorter and has only the main points of something.

This means this resource only has the most important ideas from the discussion paper.

A discussion paper is a document that has written facts and ideas to help people talk about something.

The discussion paper is for everyone to read.

The full discussion paper is on our website: www.mountainreview.tas.gov.au

It is long.

You do not have to read it all at once and you can ask for help.

Telling you about the discussion paper

The discussion paper wants people to think about the future of Wellington Park.

We want people to tell us what they want for the park after reading the discussion paper.

You can have your say by doing a short survey on our website: www.mountainreview.tas.gov.au

You can also write to us. You can email us at: mountainreview@stategrowth.tas.gov.au

The chance to have your say is open until 4 December 2024.

Telling you about Wellington Park

Wellington Park is very big.

kunanyi/Mount Wellington is in the park.

Lots of people love and visit the park.

Telling you why we need the review

More people will visit the park in the future.

We need to make sure that people can keep loving and visiting the park in the future.

We need to hear from people about what they want and need to make this happen.

That is why we have started a review of the park.

A review is a way to find out more about something so it can be changed if needed.

Telling you about the review

The review is called Our Mountain's Future.

The review has three phases.

A phase is a step in the review.

The first step is community engagement.

Engagement means asking people what they think and listening to them.

This step happens from October to December 2024.

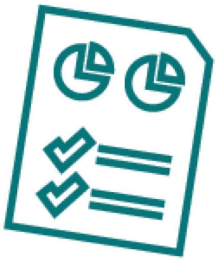

The second step is creating the community's vision for the park from what we hear.

The vision is a way to imagine what the future of the park might look like.

This step happens from January to April 2025.

Telling you about the review

The third step is creating a report.

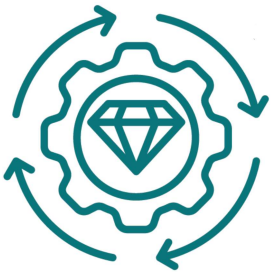

The report will have goals and steps about what to do to reach the community's vision.

This step happens from May to June 2025.

The review has three themes.

A theme is a topic that helps people talk about what they want.

The first theme is values management.

The values management theme is about how to protect, teach, and celebrate what people care about.

The second theme is user experience.

The user experience theme is about how people use or want to use the park.

The third theme is administration.

The administration theme is about how we should run and manage the park.

Telling you about our questions

We are now at the first step and want to hear from you.

We have six questions to help you think about what you want for the park.

Question one:

How do you think we should see and celebrate the history of the park?

Question two:

What matters to you when looking at the mountain?

Question three:

How important is it to you that we enjoy, conserve, protect and celebrate the park's environmental values?

To conserve means to protect or restore nature.

Telling you about our questions

Question four:

For what recreational activities would you like to use the park?

Recreational activities are things you do to enjoy yourself in your free time.

Question five:

What do you think is important when designing future transport options to go to the park?

Question six:

What facilities and infrastructure do you think the park needs?

Facilities mean places, services, or items for a particular purpose.

Infrastructure means things that are built to help people

Facilities and infrastructure include things such as pathways, ramps, shelters or toilets.

Telling you about our questions

Question seven:

How important is it that our mountain and its amenities are easily enjoyable for all?

Amenities are things that make a place nicer or more comfortable.

Amenities include things such as picnic areas, parking, cafes or fireplaces.
